MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET, COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at the pallid, emaciated and disgured faces and then broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.
DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Cured at Home.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.
Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 1,957.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.
Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy6d4p

WILL THE SCANDAL CASE BE TRIED AGAIN?

A New York Tribune reporter gives the result of an interview with Mr. Beach, in which the latter gave his views of the probability of a retrial of the great scandal case, as follows:

He said that he regarded the result of the trial as a decided success for Mr. Tilton. A disagreement of the jury was all that had been hoped for from the first, when they saw the efforts of every kind made to influence the jury in favor of Mr. Beecher, and the immense amount of influence brought to bear upon the jurymen, particularly the moral and social effect of the pressure in court of the large delegation of the friends of the defendant. At first the whole tone of public opinion was in favor of Mr. Beecher, but he thinks that that has been very materially modified during the progress of the trial.

In regard to a new trial Mr. Beach said that he did not think that he should be further nected with the case, even if it were continued, as he had given all the time to it he could spare. He said that he did not think, though he was not speaking with any authority from Mr. Tilton, that the plaintiff would wish to begin the case again. It is not likely that a case of such length would be allowed to be repeated, at least in the same manner, as it was too much both for the courts and the people. He thought it undesirable that there should be any more time spent in the consideration of such an affair, which was neither of benefit to the parties themselves, nor instructive for the general public. He thought that there was a possibility of a new trial on account of the heavy costs involved and to be paid, but such a thing was not probable. He himself would advise Mr. Tilton not to pursue the matter further, and he thought that the latter would not proceed unless forced by the defense. There was no desire for money damages by Mr. Tilton, and he would not have received them had they been awarded him. All that was wished was a full investigation of the case in all its parts, and that has been accomplished to the plaintiff's satisfaction. Mr. Tilton asks nothing more, for his method in prosecuting was to have the case fairly brought before the public in all its bearings, in order that he might be set once more in his old position before the people, which had been so seriously damaged by the action of the Plymouth Church Committee, Dr. Bacon, and other friends of Mr. Beecher. This the plaintiff feels has been in a great measure accomplished, and as he now stands in a much better light than at the beginning of the trial, and as public opinion is now far more favorable to him, he has gained all that he hoped or desired by the trial.

LOSS OF THE POYANG.

OVER ONE HUNDRED PERSONS DROWNED.

[From the Japan Mail, June 3.]

The steamer Spark, which arrived yesterday morning (2d inst.) at 6 o'clock, brought the sad intelligence that the Macao steamer Poyang had foundered, with a great loss of life. It appears that she left Hongkong for Macao, as usual, on Monday, and had arrived in sight of Macao when the typhoon commenced in full force. Finding the violence of the wind too strong to turn back, at 6 o'clock she was compelled to bring up off the "Nine Islands," about six miles from the harbor, and there experienced the full force of the typhoon. The sea rapidly increased, sweeping the decks. Everything that could be was done to save the vessel, but a huge sea was breaking over, and she foundered about 11 o'clock that night. There were about 100 passengers on board, also the captain, officers, and crew of the Portuguese vessel Santa Sancha, sold at Manila. Captain Carroll, the chief mate, and purser, along with nearly all the passengers, have been lost. Those saved are the first and second engineers, one passenger named Captain Wade, two watchmen, two pilots, four sailors, three firemen, the Chinese passenger, and Captain's boy—making sixteen in all. The chief engineer, Mr. Murphy, was saved by clinging to the walking-beam, from which he was picked up, and was taken to Macao, where he found the harbor covered with wreckage. On the news of the sad disaster reaching Macao, the agents of the ill-fated steamer did their best to get a boat of some sort to go to the wreck, but not a single one could be got for any money. They then applied to the Governor of Macao to send out one of the government gunboats, and His Excellency, with commendable promptitude, ordered the Camons to leave at once. On the receipt of the intelligence in Hongkong yesterday, universal regret was felt at the sad disaster. Captain Carroll was known here by everybody, and was very much respected; and passengers to Macao will miss his genial and hearty companionship. The flags of nearly all the vessels in the harbor, as well as those on the different mercantile houses, were flying half-mast yesterday out of respect for the deceased.

A BRUTAL CONTEST.

A CANINE SET-TO IN WHICH BOTH DOGS FIGHT TO THE DEATH.

At a late hour on Wednesday night, at a rendezvous near the Lindell Park, in the northern portion of the city, a canine contest was fought to a successful issue, between two 24-pound dogs, for a stake of $500—$250 a side. Not more than twenty-five or thirty spectators were in attendance, and they were exclusively of the class that patronize this brutal sport. The combatants were owned respectively in St. Louis and Chicago, and the battle was the most desperate ever fought in this section of the country, the St. Louis canine being killed in the pit, while his adversary died an hour or two afterward. Some time since, a noted Chicago dog-fighter, hearing that several first-class dogs were owned in this city, came here to prospect, and, after considerable talk, secured a match with a Ninth warder, who owned a twenty-four pound dog, which, up to yesterday, had proved invincible. Its fighting qualities and saving powers were so well-known that the betting at the pit ruled in its favor. The Chicagoan furnished a much younger canine, and after the brutes had been washed about the mouth and their handlers had imbibed of the fluid to see that it was not poisoned, they went at it. In the early part of the fight the old dog had much the best of it, for while his younger opponent was going for the breast and head he was crippling his fore legs. After fighting nearly two hours the St. Louis dog began to tire, and as the blood gushed from his chest, which was terribly lacerated, he fell over exhausted and dying. His contestant was also a pitiable sight, both front legs being chewed to a jelly, and his throat and jaws being torn to ribbons. The rivals were both dead game and fought to the death without a whimper. The Chicagoan, at the conclusion of the battle tried in various ways known to the trade to save his favorite's life, but without avail.—St Louis Globe.

This forenoon, about 11 o'clock, Wm. McGilligan, driver of the coach of the U. S. hotel, and Benj. Muntz, in the employ of the transfer company, got into an altercation at Oakland ferry landing, pertaining to the strife for the securing of patronage. The difficulty was finally terminated by Muntz seizing a heavy hammer, and striking McGilligan twice on the head, each blow fracturing his skull, and either one inflicting fatal injury. McGilligan was conveyed to his home, after treatment at a neighboring drug store. Muntz was conveyed to the city prison.

Lee's Statement not Accepted—Trial to Commence To-day.

Beaver, July 19.—It is stated this morning on the best authority, that the prosecution will not accept Lee's statement, as they expect to prove more by witnesses already here, some of whom participated in the massacre, than he confesses. R. N. Baskin arrived last night, and will take an active part in the prosecution. In the court this afternoon, the names of 107 witnesses, subpœned for the people, were called, not more than half being present. Lee's counsel asked a continuance till to-morrow, when they promised to be ready without fail.

RAILROAD TALK.

The Yreka Union, of the 14th, contains the following in reference to the party of railroad gentlemen lately in this State, and the object of their visit:

Mr. Colton informed us that it was the intention of the party to look over the route as surveyed along Shasta valley nearest this place, and return by the route through the lake country, and we suppose down McCloud river. There is no show to build a practical road either by Pitt or McCloud rivers, at any reasonable cost, as compared with the route through Shasta valley to Klamath river, at which point some calculation may be required to learn whether it is easier and cheaper to go over the Siskiyou or run up the Klamath to the lake country. Should the road from Winnemucca to Klamath Lake be built, a road up the Klamath would be the best way to form a junction, and this road from Winnemucca would be the best winter route from the East. The great difficulty of going into the lake section with a road via Klamath river, will be the trouble in getting through the great snow sections north of Linkville, where snow lasts all year round after a hard winter. Colton says they are making observations with a view toward seeing what they can do about furnishing us a railroad through this county, which effort Colton's old friends here will highly appreciate and encourage. On this trip we suppose these railroad directors will decide where the California road will form a junction with the Oregon road, after which conclusion we anticipate work will be commenced both in Oregon and California towards completing the gap between Roseburg and Reading. The Central Pacific has always been anxious to build, if the Oregon road could be built, but as long as Holladay had control of it they had no hope of its being extended further. Since the German bondholders came in charge the prospects are more favorable, and the indications look very promising to at least twenty or thirty miles of road being built at each terminus next year, which will shorten the stage travel to nearly two hundred miles, or probably less, if a large force be put to work by each company. Considerable grading was done above Reading when the work was stopped a couple of years ago, which will prove advantageous in renewing the work, so that by this time next year we may anticipate the iron horse making trips some miles above Reading towards our border.

Salt Lake City had a fire last week which destroyed three buildings valued at about $35,000.

THE FOURTH IN ENGLAND.

London, July 5.—The festival given by the Americans at the Crystal Palace this evening to celebrate the ninety-ninth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, was one of great magnificence. The marble hall and banqueting room, beautifully decorated, were crowded with a brilliant assemblage of English and American ladies and gentlemen, and thousands of people visited the Palace during the day and evening. A concert was given in the afternoon. The selections performed were appropriate to the day celebrated, and were received with much applause.

The dinner followed. When the cloth was removed Minister Schenck, the chairman, proposed the healths of the President of the United States and the Queen of England, which were received with cheers. On proposing the health of President Grant, he dwelt on the pride and attachment Americans had for their country. They were loyal because the Constitution and Government are of their own choice, and they were loyal to the Executive for the same reason. He alluded to the wonderful material progress of the United States. Both England and America had derived benefit from the Declaration of Independence. Friendly feelings are now the rule between the people of the two countries.

Mr. Freeman H. Morse responded to the toast, "The day we celebrate."

"Home, Sweet Home," was then sung with overwhelming effect.

The toast, "Great Britain and America—mother and daughter," was given. Mr. McCullogh Torrens, member of parliament for Finsbury, spoke in response, declaring that the desire of all Englishmen now was to have firm friendship with America. Mr. Lucius Fairchild replied to the toast "Concord at home and abroad," and Col. Forney to "The success of the United States Centennial." The latter said the American citizen was the outcome of the mill whereof many nations formed the grist, yet in spite of this various foreign admixture the American was almost wholly influenced by English habits, laws, and literature. With toasts, speeches, and music the proceedings were protracted until the signal was given for the opening of the fireworks, when the company broke up and went out upon the terrace.

The pyrotechnical display was fully equal to the reputation of the Crystal Palace, and the large set pieces representing the centennial of America called forth shouts of admiration from the spectators.

A NOVEL LAWSUIT.

ENGAGING TO MARRY WITHIN THREE MONTHS—SUIT FOR DAMAGES AGAINST AN UNSUCCESSFUL SUITOR.

Kingston, Ulster County, N. Y., June 24.—A novel case came up for trial in the county court at this place on Tuesday, arising out of a written contract made by James O. Schoonmaker and Stephen J. Case, Kerhonkson, in which Schoonmaker agreed, should Case get married within three months, to pay one-half of the minister's fees at the wedding, furnish a team and carriage for the bridal couple, and board the bride for six months, without charge. Case, on his part, bound himself to "use his utmost endeavors" to get married within the time specified, and if he did not comply with the terms of the contract, to forfeit a certain amount of money and damages. The contract read as follows:

"Kerhonkson, April 6, 1874.—To all whom it may concern: This is to certify that should Stephen J. Case get married within or at the expiration of three months from date, that I, James O. Schoonmaker, do promise and agree to board and lodge the wife of Stephen J. Case for six months, free of all cost, and I do also agree to board and lodge the said Stephen J. Case for the same time, six months, for $5 per week, the above agreement to commence July 7, 1874. And I do also agree to let the said Stephen J. Case have the use of the best team, two horses and the carriage that I own, for two days free of cost at any time within three months and one day from date, upon giving James O. Schoonmaker one week's notice. And I do also agree to pay one-half of the wedding or minister's fee for the said Stephen J. Case, and said Case to use his best endeavors to get married withing the time specified; and if it should appear that said Case fails to comply with the above, he agrees to pay for the use of the team and carriage for one day, besides damages.

"JAMES O. SCHOONMAKER,
"STEPHEN J. CASE.

"John F. Cash, witness."

Immediately after the execution of the above instrument Case went in search of a wife. He labored zealous and traveled far, but, though a comely youth, was unsuccessful, the females of marriageable age in that section not caring to marry on so short a notice, and the consequence was that at the end of the three months Case had no wife. Schoonmaker then brought an action before a justice of the peace, claiming $200 damages, and the case was tried before a jury. Schoonmaker recovered judgment, and the defendant appealed. When the case came up in the county court the contract was examined by several competent lawyers, who decided that it was void, and that Schoonmaker could not recover. The judgment of the lower court was then reversed, with a heavy bill of costs, which Schoonmaker will have to pay.—N. Y. Times.

A MAN WHO BELIEVES HE OWNS 25 ACRES UNDER AND AROUND THE CENTRAL DEPOT IN CHICAGO.

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—The foundation for what may prove to be one of the most important lawsuits of these latter days was laid here on July 5 in the office of the register of the land office. The Hon. Willis Drummond, late commissioner of the general land office, arrived here on that day, and, proceeding to the register's office, took the necessary steps to enter between 25 and 26 acres of land, being an addition to Sec. 10, town 34, range 14, east of the third principal meridian. This land lies on the south side of the Chicago river, and lies along the lake shore, being a block wide on the river and gradually narrowing until it runs out into the lake. Upon this land the Illinois Central Railroad depot is situated, and the Illinois Central Railroad claims to have the title to the land. It seems that Mr. Drummond had attempted to effect a compromise with the company before he came here, but Mr. Douglas, president of the road, would not entertain or make any proposition. The entry was made with what is known as Valentine scrip, which was given to Jacob Valentine to recompense him for land taken from him in California. Valentine was authorized to lay the scrip upon any of the public lands of the United States. Your correspondent called upon Maj. Prescott, the register of the land office here, who confirmed these facts. It is thought that there is some reason to think that the entry will hold, although the survey and plat of this addition, which was made subsequent to the original survey of this section, was never approved by the land office in Washington. Be this as it may, however, the records here are prima facie evidence that it was, as the survey and plat are of official record in the land office here. The land is said to be worth several millions of dollars, and a big lawsuit is expected.—Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

They had a good deal of trouble with Barnum's elephant in Rhode Island recently. It appears that they were feeding one end of him in Massachusetts, and the other end got into a farm yard in Connecticut. The neighbors got out and attacked with pitchforks, and the Massachusetts end got mad. There was a good deal of excitement for a time, and the majority of the inhabitants stepped over into the adjoining States till it was over.—Norwich Bulletin.

Easily.—Gent.—"I left a lock of hair here a few days ago to be fitted in a locket. Is it—ah—ready?" Artiste—"Very sorry, sir; it has been mislaid. But it's of no consequence, sir. We can easily get it matched, sir!"

PROGRESS IN IOWA.

[From the N. Y. Tribune of July 3.]

A year ago the Republicans of Iowa held a convention and constructed a platform, which began with the following spacious resolution:

Resolved, That as the policy of the Republican party in relation to the finances has afforded the people not only a safe, sound, and popular currency of equal and uniform worth in every portion of our commonwealth, but has likewise greatly improved the credit of the country at home and abroad, we point with pride to its record, and accomplishments in this regard; and, while reaffirming the policy announced by the party in the National Conventions of 1868 and 1872, and triumphantly indorsed by the people at the polls—a policy which, while contributing to the public credit, has also enhanced the individual and collective prosperity of the American people; we favor such legislation as shall make national banking free to all under just and equal laws, based upon the policy of specie resumption, at such time as is consistant with the material and industrial interests of the country, to the end that the volume of currency may be regulated by the natural laws of trade.

To say the truth, there is not oxygen enough in the above to support life in the body of a toad. Its big swelling words are suggestive of inflation, and that is all there is of it. On Wednesday last the Iowa Republicans held another convention and made a fresh platform, which expresses the views of the party on the currency question in the following pithy declaration:

Resolved, That gold and silver are the only reliable legal tender and a currency convertible into coin should, therefore, be gradually attained.

We put these resolutions of the Iowa Republicans on record as a cheering sign of progress. We believe that the great majority of the American people in all parts of the Union have not only honest instincts but clear common sense. We believe that inflation will within three years be voted down in such a way that all the world will see that it is a dead issue.

In the XLIIId Congress the two Senators and nine Representatives of Iowa—all Republicans—went solid for inflation, with the single exception of Mr. Cotton, who favored the Maynard-Morton and Dawes Compromise-Inflation bills, but voted against most of the other projects for cheapening our paper money. One of the Iowa Representatives in the XLIVth Congress is a Democrat, but may we not hope that out of the eight Republican Representatives and two Republican Senators some one may be found to resist all propositions to increase the volume of the Government's neglected promises, payment of which for thirteen years and six months has been totally suspended? That will show real progress. We hail the Iowa platform of 1875 as of good augury, and we hope to see the Senators and Representatives of Iowa live up to it, as in duty bound.

PUBLIC OPINION.

By far the most important of the issues now before the people of the United States is that which relates to the currency.—Portland Press (Rep.)

There never was a more utterly indefensible proposition than that the greenback system is good enough, and that the United States should be independent of the monetary system of the rest of the world. It is not true.—Milwaukee News (Dem.)

We are among those who think the experiment of magnificent incapacity in high places has gone far enough already; to convince all but the most obdurate minds of the needs of a fresh supply of political brains of the first water.—St. Louis Republican (Ind.)

The sound circulating medium is as much a necessity of healthy business as sunshine and vital air to vegetable and animal life, and the party which opposes this, or speaks in doubtful tones in regard to it, deserves to be and will be, sooner or later, consigned to disgraceful and perpetual oblivion.—Burlington (Ia.) Hawk-Eye (Rep.)

Mr. Delano is a chronic office-holder, and it is his misfortune that he has long had the unenviable reputation of making the most out of every position he has ever occupied. There can be no doubt that it would be a good thing for the administration, for the Republican party, and for the Indians, if Mr. Delano should resign, fold his tents, and quietly steal away to his own native wilds of Ohio.—Philadelphia Inquirer (Rep.)

The action of our Democratic brethren of Ohio has been characterized by a high degree of wisdom, and by placing the issue upon the finances, and boldly making the fight as between the people upon the one side and the aristocracy on the other, they have exhibited a sober and earnest appreciation of the political situation that augers well for their ability to maintain themselves against all assaults.—Terre Haute (Ind.) Journal (Dem.)

DEATH OF THE CHAMPION OARSMAN OF AMERICA.

Halifax, N. S., July 8.—George Brown, the champion oarsman of America, died at his residence in this city to-day, at the age of 36. Brown was, without doubt, the finest sculler ever born on the American continent. He was born in the province of Nova Scotia, and first came into prominence as an oarsman from his connection with the Pryor four-oared crew, of which he was stroke. At the international regatta, at Saratoga, in 1872, he pulled stroke in the Pryor crew, and in the single scull race, on the following day, he carried off second money, rowing second to Joe Sadler, the champion of England, and defeating such noted scullers as Bagnall, Winship and Kelly. So great was the confidence reposed in Brown by his backers, that they published a challenge to row Sadler for the championship of the world—the race to be pulled in American waters. Sadler accepted, but subsequently backed out, and endeavored to induce Brown to row on the Thames. Negotiations have since been pending with this end in view, and had Brown lived the match would, in all probability, have been made. Brown never met his equal in America. He defeated the foremost scullers in the United States and Canada, the most notable of his conquests being those over Eph. Morris and Billy Scharff, of Pittsburgh. Bob Fulton, stroke-oar of the famous Paris crew, of St. John, New Brunswick, whom James Renforth lost his life in endeavoring to defeat, also had to lower his colors to the Haligolian, and since that time he has been an unchallenged man. Brown was a universal favorite, and much sorrow is expressed throughout the city at his death, in the prime of life and in the hight of a successful career.

Cotton Mills in Georgia.—The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle of the 2d inst. says: "The Augusta Factory, which has been paying regularly since the war dividends of twenty per cent., and whose stock has sold for more than $200 per share, has been compelled to reduce its dividends first, we believe, to sixteen per cent., then to twelve per cent., and on Wednesday the board could only authorize a dividend of eight per cent. Its gross earnings for the past six months are stated in the report at $56,000, while its expense account, taxes, interest, repairs and dividends amount to $67,000. It is true the company has a surplus of $234,000 invested in a new mill, which really represents the profits made by the corporation since it has been doing business, in addition to the enormous dividends directly divided among the stockholders, and it is equally as true that, with a capital stock of $600,000, the company has a property which is valued at $838,000. These figures show that the corporation is in a prosperous condition, but they also show that it has not found much profit in manufacturing during the past twelve months. Graniteville Factory has been paying, we believe, quarterly dividends of four per cent."

OREGON.

A directory of Coos county is in the press.

The hotels at Roseburg have closed on account of heavy city taxes.

The damage by the waterspout in Umatilla county last week is estimated at $15,000.

The Roseburg Jockey Club is perfecting its organization. The sum of $800 has been subscribed.

Col. T. H. Cann informs the Record that considerable inquiry for State land exists, especially in Jackson county.

Sixty head of horses and 80 head of mules raised east of the mountains, were offered for sale at auction at Salem last week and went off like "hot cakes," the owner bidding them in.

The Flail says a good opening may be found in the town of Shedd for a person in each of the following named trades and professions: Physician, druggist, hotel, livery, harness maker, shoemaker, wagonmaker, tinsmith, and merchant.

A man by the name of Gaylord died at Linkville last week. He was quite unwell upon his arrival there, and continuing to get worse, word was dispatched to his family in Chewaukan valley, but he had died a day previous to their arrival.

Articles of incorporation of Gervais Grange, Patrons of Husbandry. Incorporators, J. W. Thornbury, M. A. Wade, S. Harklerood. Object, storing, buying and selling of real estate and merchandise, etc. Capital stock $500, in $10 shares. Place of business, Gervais.

The erection of an Episcopal chapel has been secured at Weston by the subscription of $500 by the people there, and thus they are to obtain $500 from the bishop. A fine site has also been donated in the center of the town. There is no church building of any kind nearer than Walla Walla, 13 miles away.

In the Harrisburg school, for the quarter ending July 2d, O. S. Porter, principal and John Henderson assistant, the names of Jerry Schooling, Geo. Woolburg, Katie Curtis, Florence Humphrey and Harry Macy in the higher department, and John Curtis, Mary Woolburg, Annie Hoult, Howard Bramwell and Willie Douglas in the primary, were placed on the roll of honor.

The Jacksonville Times, in giving the county court proceedings, says: "Road declared a public highway and road supervisors through which the road passes ordered to open the same and keep it in good repair." To which the Sentinel adds: "Them must be 'whopping' big supervisors and must have a good stomach if they can keep the road in good condition without 'spewing' her up."

It is said that the English-American Company on Galice creek are making all necessary arrangements toward pushing work forward rapidly, and that they are hiring about one hundred hands to make ditches, flumes, &c., and do work generally in their gravel claims. Nicholas Thoss will superintend the work. He is also an owner in the Yank ledge and says that he has more confidence in it than ever.

Pendleton was visited on Tuesday of last week by a severe wind and dust storm. An immense amount of alkali real estate changed owners. The wind blew so hard that it came near levelling the planing mill building to the ground. It was warped and wrenched severely, but it has since been righted up by its proprietors. The thunder was loud enough, and the lightning was sufficiently vivid to carry consternation to ordinary sinners.

The Statesman says: For the first time in about seven years, the city of Jefferson, on the Santiam, has a gin mill. During that length of time the city licenses had been so large that it amounted to a prohibition, but at the last meeting of the common council of that enterprising burg, the ordinance was repealed, or amended, making the city charges merely nominal. The result of this action on the part of the city dads, induced Mr. J. E. French to open out last Monday.

The Jacksonville Sentinel of last Saturday says: On Monday last an affray took place on Beaver creek near Deskins', and it appears that Mr. A. Humphrey, an old man, was seized by one Charles Parker, and forcibly dragged some 30 or 40 yards to the creek and violently thrown off the bank into the water. Mr. Humphrey crept out of the creek very badly bruised and hurt. All this was done in the presence of several bystanders who, when appealed to by Mr. Humphrey for their aid and interference, did not stir a finger in his behalf. The cause for all this it seems was for words, such as "liar," between the parties. Mr. Humphrey is now at Dr. Danforth's hospital.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says: Messrs. Wm. Bybee and John Bilger returned from Galice Creek last Sunday evening, where they have been attending to business in connection with their quartz leads—Mr. Bilger's on the Yank ledge and Mr. Bybee's some two miles below. We understand that Mr. Bilger effected a consolidation of his and the river claim, and will commence taking out ore immediately to have worked in San Francisco. They intend running a cut across the ledge to see how it looks at a certain point. This we think is the inaugural step towards opening the Oregon bonanza, and the parties composing this company have every confidence in the richness of the mines.

On Friday, the 9th inst., says the Pendleton Tribune, the dwelling house of a Mr. Shepherd, living on or near Wild Horse creek, caught fire while Mrs. Shepherd was asleep, and was entirely consumed. She had been at work quite hard, and had laid down on a bed to rest a little. How long she was asleep is not known, but she was awakened by the heat from the fire. She sprang up, half asleep as it were, and ran out; but as soon as she reached the open air she remembered that her little child, a babe about nine months old, was in another room asleep also; and she was on the point of rushing back into the burning building to rescue her little one, when the house fell with a terrible crash. The house—her babe—everything was entirely consumed.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

The steamer Great Republic arrived from Hongkong July 16th.

CHINA.

Much damage was done at Macao by the recent typhoon. The Government House was blown down, and eleven persons buried under the ruins, the governor himself escaping narrowly.

Several Portugese residents in Hongkong have received intelligence from relatives in Macao that a small junk has arrived at that port with the news that over forty of the passengers and crew of the ill-fated Poyang have been saved, and were on an island some distance to the leeward of the Nine Islands, where the Poyang foundered. Among them is said to be Mr. Ribeiro, the purser.

Difficulties with Kashgar are apprehended by the Peking cabinet. The rulers of that province are believed to be in alliance with authorized emissaries from Western nations, and preparing to throw off Chinese rule.

After repeated defeats by the aborigines, the Chinese troops are said to have gained a victory in Southern Formosa. Two hundred of the savages are reported killed.

JAPAN.

It is rumored that the Government is becoming anxious as to the effects of the liberty granted to the press, and have under consideration the idea of putting some restrictions on it.

The Japanese, with their usual short-sighted illiberality, are seeking to make the terms on which passports are granted to foreigners, to enable them to travel in the interior, still more stringent. A meeting of the foreign ministers has been held to discuss the same, but the result has not yet transpired. It is believed, however, that the more obnoxious regulations will be modified.

One of the steamers of the Mitsu Bishi S. S. Company—either the Hiogo Maru or the Tsuruga Maru—will, we read in a native paper, be dispatched for San Francisco with articles for the coming international exhibition at Philadelphia.

THE TERRITORIES.

A new process has been successfully tested in Park City, Utah, by which $4 ore can be profitably worked.

Nearly $50,000 in pure silver bullion was received in Salt Lake last week. The receipts are daily increasing.

The Park City stage brought to Salt Lake one day last week six silver bricks from the Ontario, weighing 10,188 ounces, and valued at $9,703.

One of the two saw-mills at Port Gamble is running day and night, and one running day only. The daily cut of the two mills is over 150,000 feet of lumber.

A number of rural exchanges come to us weighted down with Fourth of July orations—not considered good reading two weeks after the eagle has screamed.

The ship Germania and bark Amethyst are fully due at Sehome, to load Bellingham bay coal for San Francisco. The schooner Sabina is at LaConner, loading Skagit coal for Seattle.

Three more bodies of unfortunate miners who were buried in the great snow slide in Cottonwood canyon, Utah, last winter, were found last week, the melting snow having left them exposed.

A gentleman from Snohomish informs us that there are fifteen logging camps in that county, employing an average of twelve men, and five yoke of oxen each, and putting into the water daily 200,000 feet of saw logs.

At Seattle the construction of a bank building is to be commenced on the 1st of August, and it is to be finished by the 1st of December. Its foundation will be of stone, its upper walls of brick and its front of iron. It will be 60 feet long and 30 feet wide, two stories high with basement beneath.

The wharf and warehouse building at LaConner for the Gaches Bros. is chiefly intended to facilitate the shipment of grain. Last year the first cargo ever sent from the Territory went from LaConner. This year there will be three such cargoes to spare. Wheat, oats and barley are the cereals raised.

John Street, the keeper of a squaw dance house at Port Townsend, so the Tribune is informed, was beaten at cards by a Chinaman. They played again at Street's place, and the Chinaman again won. Street became enraged, and struck the Chinaman over the head with a heavy pitcher, cutting him quite severely.

The Tribune says: While so much is being written calculated to show the superiority of Puget Sound fir over other fibres ordinarily used in the construction of ships, it may not be amiss to call attention to the fact that the steamer Cyrus Walker, built of Puget Sound material, eleven years ago, has never had a caulking iron driven into her seams since she was launched, is yet tight as a bottle, and her sides smooth as a floor.

A friend writing from Palouse Bridge under date of July 3d, to the Union, says there has been but one death in that neighborhood since May, 1874. Altogether it is the healthiest country he knows of. The crops on the Palouse, both grain and vegetables, are very fine. Persons in search of homes will find thousands of acres of land in Whitman county open to settlement. These lands are well watered, and timber convenient.

A report reached Walla Walla on Wednesday of last week, that Joseph and his band had returned to the Wallowa valley and were threatening the settlers. The facts were at once communicated to headquarters, when orders were issued for two companies of cavalry to repair to the scene of disturbance. Company L, Col. Whipple commanding, and company H, Major Trimble, were at once placed under marching orders, and are probably at the scene of trouble.

An Expensive Book.—Before forgetting it, says the New York correspondent of the Buffalo Courier, let me jot down an item about a volume of poems that is now and has been for some time in the hands of one of our publishers. The author is having it printed for private circulation. He is a gentleman of means and leisure, and he takes a great interest in this little book. The number of copies to be printed is two hundred, and these two hundred copies have already cost about $19,000. The book is not at all costly in appearance; $5 would be a high price for any book of its kind, and yet each copy of this is costing $60. Here is the explanation: The author is very hard to please in punctuation. His book has been printed and ready for the bindery over and over again, and each time he has discovered something in the arrangement of commas, semicolons and periods that did not quite please him, and the compositors had to take hold again and go through from beginning to end. The punctuation was just as good at the start as it is now, but the author kept on changing and changing, till he has spent $12,000 on a book that any clear-headed publisher would undertake to turn out for $1,000 at the most. Of the literary quality of the book there is no occasion to speak, as it is not intended that the public shall see it at all. The author has a very high opinion of it, however, and is evidently willing to back up his opinion with cash. Yet I do not think his work, even if thrown on the market, would seriously interfere with the sale of Tennyson, Longfellow and Bryant.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING JULY 20, 1875.

SEND OUR MAYOR.

A while ago, when it was proposed in the British House of Commons to appropriate a sum of money to defray the expenses of a royal visit of the Prince of Wales to India, a member being inclined to scrutinize the proposition rather closely, was rebuked by Disraeli, who thought it indecent to discuss a matter of that nature, and that the bill should have gone through without question or comment. And now America must rush into a similar indecency and subject herself to similar animadversion. The Council of Philadelphia is higgling about an authorization of a paltry $5,000 to pay the expenses of the Mayor of that goodly city, who is invited to a grand banquet by the Lord Mayor of London. That we pronounce a gross impropriety. It is, indeed, one of those improprieties which are instinctively perceived and which it is therefore indelicate to discuss. We take the liberty to suggest to our City Fathers that they immortalize themselves and save the nation from disgrace by throwing Portland in the breach and bundle our own worthy and portly Mayor off to the royal feast. It would be a good investment. It would bring honor upon the name of Portland. Our esteemed Democratic-Republican Mayor has all that is needed to fit him for such an occasion. He has any required amount of avoirdupois, which is quite as available a quality at a feast as that intangible sort of weight which is conventionally called weight of character—and of this latter article we wish not to intimate that he is deficient in the slightest degree. And think what a retinue he might make up for the journey out of the distinguished men who are understood to be on terms of intimacy with his honor. The array of nobility that Portland will turn out, if the common council do but show itself equal to the emergency, will be perfectly stunning. Not intending to be officious, nor doubting the ability of his honor, the mayor, to select just the right persons to compose his suite, but rather because the gentlemen hereafter named are so clearly the right persons that we feel certain the mention of them will meet with universal and unqualified approbation, we suggest a few names to form a part of the mayor's retinue. First in natural order, because first in rank, Lord John Hiram de Hipple. It is needless to say that a person who has exploited so magnificently as he has, would attract attention. Then that flower of chivalry and some other things, the Count de Dollar Joseph, who would shed more lustre on the escutcheon than any other man of his price that could be found in this or any other province. Add to this brilliant procession the name of Baron von Bencimpsen, Hidalgo Copperdomo Higgensio and Senor Georgio Hellofafello Carbonio, with the pious Sheikh Lit el Denni for chaplain, and if the British Lion did "roar you as gently as any sucking dove" on their arriving at the Lord Mayor's palace by the Thames, it would be because he was afraid to roar at all. Send them, by all means. Send them even if it be impossible to raise money enough to bring them back.

TOOMBS.

There are some things that some people can't stand, but which are not at all disagreeable to some other and just as respectable people. One of these things is the Fourth of July, and one of the people who are unpleasantly affected by it, is Robert Toombs, of Georgia, whose name was somewhat conspicuous in connection with the "late unpleasantness." Toombs says the Fourth of July, under present circumstances, is a fraud and humbug, because "the bloody chasm has engulfed the principles of 1776," and because it is not becoming for the survivors of the aforesaid unpleasantness to shake hands "over the bloody corpses of the brave and true." These reasons, it would seem, are sufficient to justify any Christian, and especially such a chivalrous Christian as Mr. Robert Toombs, in withholding all fellowship from the mob of sentimental patriots, who are beslobbering each other with fraternity and beer so soon after closing a four years' engagement in shooting one another from behind earthworks, and so forth. And then Mr. Toombs, whose old time fertility in matters of this sort has not forsaken him, assigns still another reason for refusing to fraternize with the Fourth of July or any of the gang. He says he is fixed in a high and holy resolve not to be bullied, persuaded or cozened into a "fraternity with States or people without liberty or equality." That has the right sound. It is like the glorious Toombs' ante-bellum days; that is, it sounds large and has no meaning that anybody knows of. Mr. Toombs would hardly be expected to explain what he means when he speaks of the want of equality among the people of the United States. It would prove all the ideas heretofore entertained concerning him to be greatly at fault were he to do so. Excepting those points in which his nature and education are to be blamed for the want of equality, Mr. Toombs is the equal of any man in the North. Indeed, we dare say he's, in some respects, superior to a good many of them, "without regard to race, color, or previous condition of servitude." Of course, we appreciate the high self-respect which prevents Mr. Robert Toombs from fraternizing with such mudsills as Henry Wilson, Charles Francis Adams, James G. Blaine, B. H. Bristow and that kidney generally; but we can not but feel that the immense benefits to the entire country and to universal civilization, which would flow from any trifling act of recognition which Mr. Tooms might make, should be considered by the distinguished statesman as a compensation to himself for the compromise involved in it. The next Fourth is to be the great centennial Fourth, which they say comes but once in a century, and we do hope those who are running things in that line will see the necessity of endeavoring to propitiate Mr. Toombs before then, for should he still persist in declining to fraternize, no one can say what the effects upon republican government may be. If it be not done the jig is up and the concern "busted."

THE PROSPECT OF THE CONVENTIONS.

The vote will be small at the October election. Smaller, even relatively smaller, will be the vote at the primaries which are yet to be held. The Democratic party chose such a time for their primaries as would least interfere with the work of the farmers, and they have been unable to get up any enthusiasm. The other two parties have been compelled by events to put the time of their preliminary gatherings at the busiest period of the year. The result will be slim attendance. Headers and threshers will not stop for politics, especially when, without going to the primaries, the people will have an opportunity to correct any error that may be committed then, by voting against the man put up if he happen to be the wrong man. It is improbable that of the three candidates to be voted for no suitable man can be found. With three candidates to choose from the most fastidious voter ought to be able to suit himself reasonably well. The primaries will be thinly attended, the county conventions will be to an unusual extent bodies of proxies, and it is not by any means unlikely the State conventions will be in the same condition.

Mr. Nordhoff, says the Tribune, has stirred up bad feeling among the White House attendants. His letter about the kitchen organ, written to the Hon. J. M. Edmunds, called forth from that gentleman a disclaimer of any proprietorship in the instrument aforesaid, and his manner of denial was not very complimentary to the real proprietors. The grinders now rise to say a few words, and they speak of the great politician who originated the famous Bloody Shirt Convention at Chattanooga in this slurring way: "We have never consulted the secretary and postmaster upon any political subject. We never had the slightest idea of doing it. We always supposed that his chief business was to superintend the mailing of old documents, the substance of which had long been given to the public by telegraph." Has it come to this, that the only newspaper the White House ever recognizes calls the beautiful speeches of our "leading statesmen" "old documents?" It is very mournful.

A gentleman from Yamhill county, who is in a position to know much of the state of the public mind up there, says the independent sentiment is more decided and more general than at any time heretofore. The prospect is that the independent vote of Yamhill will be much larger this fall than it was last year, unless the convention should bring out an objectionable candidate.

The Pendleton Tribune canvasses the claims and availability of various supposed or possible candidates for Congress, in the Democratic party, and concludes that Hon. J. H. Slater is the man that should be nominated. If a Democrat is to go, and if the question of the back-salary business is to be left out of sight, we see no reason why Slater is not about as good as any.

The Syracuse Journal wants Frederick W. Seward nominated for Secretary of State for New York.

INDEPENDENT STATE CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Independent State Central Committee, held at Portland, July 16, 1875, it was resolved that a State Independent Convention be held at Salem on the 10th of August, 1875, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating a Candidate for Member of Congress.

The basis of representation adopted is one delegate for every 100 votes cast at the last General Election for T. F. Campbell for Governor, one additional for a fraction of 50 or more, and one delegate at large for each county. Under this apportionment, the several counties are entitled to Delegates in the State Convention, as follows:

Baker	2	Lane	6
Benton	5	Linn	8
Coos	2	Marion	8
Curry	1	Multnomah	7
Columbia	2	Polk	6
Clatsop	1	Tillamook	1
Clackamas	3	Umatilla	6
Douglas	8	Union	2
Grant	3	Wasco	5
Jackson	2	Washington	6
Josephine	1	Yamhill	5
Lake	1

The Committee recommend that the people of the several counties meet either in Primaries or Mass Meetings, as they may deem best, on the 31st day of July, to select Delegates to the State Convention.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 20, 1875.

CITY.

HAMMOND AT SALEM.—Our Salem correspondent, writing under date of the 19th, says: The Opera House was crowded on Saturday evening last by the citizens of Salem and vicinity, irrespective of sect or creed, who were desirous of hearing Hammond, the celebrated revivalist. About 100 singers occupied seats on the platform, as well as representative ministers of our various churches. His address was something out of the regular order, and was listened to with interest on every hand. The singing was unusually fine. Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock, he addressed the children especially, and created a profound impression on their young minds. Sunday evening, at 6 o'clock, the meetings were continued in Marion square, owing to the intense heat. A very large audience was in attendance, the choir and invited guests occupying seats in the pavilion. Judge Bronaugh, of this city, was introduced and made some excellent remarks, urging Christians to come up to the help of the Lord against the mighty. Mr. Hammond's fund of appropriate stories and sketches held out well, and the exercises were continued until nearly 11 o'clock. The religious sentiment is hardly aroused as yet, and matters are but lukewarm. Mr. Hammond, however, will undoubtedly keep things moving until they fairly boil. Morning meetings were held at 10 o'clock to-day at the Opera House, and the clan will again convene in the square this evening, which will be brilliantly lighted for the occasion. The Evangelist will probably remain until Friday next.

DESERTED HIS FAMILY.—Some days ago we referred to a case of destitution in this city—a woman who had been deserted by her husband, leaving a number of small helpless children to support, and entirely without means. The Pacific Tribune has the following in relation to the case: "Dave Wallace, known on Puget Sound and in British Columbia as a steamboat pilot and mate of steamboats, has left his wife and children to the cold mercies of the world. He deserted them some months ago at Olympia, leaving them penniless and destitute. His wife could do nothing there, and resolved to try Portland. A generous subscription was given her by the people of that city, and she and her children were enabled to reach Portland. Her going, however, does not seem to have helped her in any way, for last week appealed to the chief of police there, stating in her letter of application that she had several small children to support and no means of support. She is said to be in great distress." For the benefit of the public we will state that a number of kind-hearted ladies promptly took the case in hand and called upon our generous citizens for contributions. It is needless to add that the appeal in behalf of charity was nobly responded to, and that the deserted wife and children was abundantly provided for.

ST. GERVAIS.—A correspondent writing from Gervais, says: "For the past few days [our town] has assumed the title of being a lively town, and in fact it has been, and is perhaps, the liveliest town of its size as there is on the O. & C. R. R. line. The spiritualists have just closed a successful camp meeting, which commenced on the 16th inst., and yesterday being the last day, it was indeed very largely attended. Taking into consideration the fact that the Nippers and Champion base-ball clubs were to play here, the former from this place and the latter from St. Paul, accordingly at an early hour in the afternoon the crowd which was at the camp-meeting assembled, and, after a drive of a few minutes, were all on the base-ball grounds to witness the contest. Promptly at 2 o'clock, the game was called by Mr. George Belt, of the ... B. B. C. of Salem, who acted as umpire. At the end of the ninth inning, after a hotly contested game, the Nippers came out victorious by one run; the score standing 46 to 45. The second game will be played at St. Paul on the 25th inst."

ARM SAWED OFF.—A Chinaman employed at the barrel factory at St. Johns, met with a painful accident yesterday morning, resulting in the instant loss of a portion of the left forearm. He was working about a planer, and in some means got his left arm caught in the machine and had it taken off in a flash. Those who were engaged about the factory at the time were at a loss to determine how the Chinaman could possibly have got his arm ... The limb was completely severed about two inches below the elbow joint. Before the arm could be bandaged, and the hemorrhage stanched, the poor fellow had lost much blood. He was brought up in a wagon to the city, soon after the accident, and taken to the office of Dr. W. B. Cardwell. An examination of the mangled limb disclosed the fact that it would have to be amputated at the elbow joint. In the afternoon the arm was amputated, and at latest accounts the Chinaman was doing well.

UNIFORM POSTAGE RATES.—By the international postal treaty of Berne, to which the United States is a party, the rates of postage between all the contracting countries—that is, the United States, England, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, Egypt, Spain, France, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, the Netherlands, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Servia, Switzerland, Sweden and Turkey, have been made uniform. Instead of rates that have existed up to July 1st, so multiform that scarcely any one knew what they are, there is to be a uniform rate of 5 cents on each letter weighing half an ounce, each additional half ounce involving an extra charge of the same amount. Owing to some hitch on the part of France, ... to and passing in the mail through ... will not have the advantage of the ... rate until the beginning of the year.

... RECEIVED.—That is the usual ... when a friend of the printer takes unto himself a wife. He is pretty certain to bring a liberal supply of cake, etc., and the latest ... benedict is Mr. Charles May, a ... man who is well known in this city. ... was appointed assistant lighthouse keeper at Fort Adams, and during his sojourn in that locality he has been out ... the young ladies; and it took him but ... time to capture one of the fair sex. ... is indicated in the head line of this ... Miss Mary Kindred, of Fort Adams, is the young lady who will hereafter be known as Mrs. May, and the pleasant event which ... in the union of two loving hearts ... on Sunday last. Long life and a ... journey through it is the wish of numerous friends of the young couple.

REWARD OFFERED.—Sunday afternoon a lad named John M. McQuade was drowned in the Columbia river a few miles below Kalama. The lad fell from the steamer ... and before he could be rescued passed beyond human aid. He was sleeping on a ... at the time and it is supposed lost his balance and fell overboard. No person saw him fall, and it was a few moments before he was discovered to be overboard. As soon as possible a boat was lowered, but before the boy could be reached he sunk beneath the waters. McQuade, we learn, has been ... on the river for some time. His age ... Mr. A. F. Hall, the stepfather of the unfortunate boy offers a reward for the recovery of the body.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.—By San Francisco papers we learn that the Vasco de Gama, in pursuance of a contract between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the British government, establishing a new line of steamers between that port and Victoria and Nanaimo, will sail for the latter ports on the 22d and will be followed, July 31st, by the ... or Arizona. The steamers of this line will touch at all the principal ports on the Sound, terminating at Tacoma, and will connect with the Northern Pacific Railroad for ... and steamers for Olympia, Washington Territory.

DELEGATES.—The following persons have been chosen delegates to attend the Democratic County convention from the east side of the river: East Portland, Mallory Raffety, ... J. S. M. VanCleave; North East ..., W. F. Trimble; Grant, James B.

NEW WHARF BOAT.—We learn that the O. S. N. Co. are building a new boat at Umatilla, under the superintendence of Mr. J. J. Holland. The boat, when completed, will be one of the best on the Columbia river. She will be twenty feet longer than the old boat. Her timbers have been brought from Oak Point, and it requires for her construction 70,000 feet of lumber. Twenty ship carpenters are now engaged in her construction. She will be launched Saturday, July 24th, at 4 P. M. A ball will be given in honor of the event at the Wilson hotel.

FREE LECTURES.—Dr. J. L. York, of San Jose, California, will give a course of liberal and free-thought lectures at Oro Fino Hall on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week at 8 P. M. Subject, opening lecture: "Common Sense vs. Hammond." All cordially invited. Come "early" and bring your wife.

HOSE ORDERED.—Mr. Jos. Buchtel has ordered a supply of his electric hose to arrive in time to exhibit on the occasion of Willamettes' anniversary celebration. As a number of strangers will be in the city it will prove an excellent time to demonstrate the merits of the invention.

I. O. R. M.—This morning, at 10 o'clock, the delegates to the great council of the Improved Order of Red Men will meet at the wigwam, corner of Front and Washington streets. A number of delegates from different parts of the State have already arrived.

THE SUPREME COURT.—The supreme court met at Salem yesterday. In consequence of some business yet unfinished which demands his attention, Judge Shattuck will not be able to attend until to-day.

DEDICATION OF ST. VINCENT'S HOSPITAL.

In accordance with previous notice the dedicatory exercises at St. Vincent's Hospital, in the northern portion of the city, took place yesterday afternoon, that day being, in the calendar of the Catholic Church, the feast of St. Vincent de Paul, who was the founder of the Order of the Sisters of Charity, and in whose honor the hospital was dedicated.

At 2 o'clock the several Catholic societies of the city assembled near the Catholic church, on Third street, in the following order, under the marshalship of Captain J. R. Wiley:

American flag.
Northwestern Band.
Father Mathew Society.
St. Joseph's Society.
Sunday-school children.
St. Vincent de Paul Society.

These were followed by a large number of carriages, containing Archbishop Blanchet, Right Rev. A. M. Blanchet, Bishop of Nesqually, and a number of clergymen belonging to both dioceses, besides invited guests.

The procession marched down Stark street to Front, thence to B street, and thence to the site of the hospital, where a large concourse had already congregated.

Arriving at the hospital, the societies formed a semi-circle around the main entrance, from whence Very Rev. J. F. Fierens, delivered an appropriate address, explanatory of the origin of the order of the Sisters of Charity, and the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and also congratulating the citizens of Portland on being the first place in the State where a hospital devoted to charity was established. The Reverend gentleman also thanked the citizens of Portland for the liberal manner in which they had responded to the application for aid on them by the Sisters of Charity, and hoped that inasmuch as a large debt yet remained on the hospital, that their generosity would be as cheerfully extended in the future as in the past.

Space will not permit us to give as full a synopsis of the Rev. gentleman's remarks as we should desire, but we endorse the general sentiment of all who heard them, when we say they were eminently in keeping with interesting occasion which called them forth.

At the conclusion of the address, the Bishop and clergy proceeded with the religious portion of the exercises, by blessing the building. A number of antiphons and responses were sung by the clergy, at the conclusion of which Very Rev. J. F. Fierens announced to the audience that the hospital was open for public inspection, and ready for the reception of patients. At this announcement a large portion of the assembly entered the building to view its interior arrangement, and all expressed their delight at the completeness of every detail for the accommodation of the sick.

When the people had satisfied their curiosity in examining the building, all adjourned to the hospital grounds where seats had been prepared and where a large number of ladies were kept busy all the afternoon dispensing ice cream, cakes and other refreshments for the concourse that thronged the grounds; and where all continued to enjoy themselves until the shades of evening, the band discoursing sweet music until 7 o'clock, when all returned home, well pleased with the day's pleasure.

AN INCIDENT.

In the course of his address Very Rev. J. F. Fierens very aptly remarked that charity such as that practised by the daughters of St. Vincent de Paul, knew neither creed nor country, little dreaming that this assertion would be practically attested before the services of dedication at the hospital had concluded, as, just as the exercises were coming to a close, a wagon drove up to the hospital, containing a Chinaman whose arm had been horribly mangled at one of the saw-mills, and who was at once admitted and carefully tended by the Sisters of Charity, thus putting in practice the precepts of St. Vincent de Paul.

This hospital fills a want that has long been felt in our city, and we congratulate the society under whose auspices it has been founded on the completion of their excellent work, so creditable alike to them and so beneficial to the people of the entire State.

AMUSEMENTS.

Elsewhere is published the announcement of the early appearance of the Alleghanians at the New Market Theater. This party is meeting with great success at every point, and their season in this city promises to be nothing more or less than they deserve—a successful one. On Monday evening next they will appear for the first time in this city. The agent is perfecting arrangements and a grand treat is in store for all. We shall speak of them again.

BRIEF NOTES.

Steamer due this evening.

State circuit court has adjourned for the present.

The U. S. grand jury will convene this morning.

Butter was so cowardly that it would run in the shade yesterday.

Ice dealers were never so busy as at present. They have no cause to grumble.

St. Andrew's Society meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Business of importance will be transacted.

Mr. Wm. Hartley has been chosen a delegate to attend the Democratic County Convention from Fulton Precinct.

Geo. W. Moore is the name of the insane man concerning whose unusual proceedings we gave a long account in yesterday's issue.

Baby-carriages and phaetons are got up in the most fascinating manner these days, with a view of tempting young people into matrimony.

Harry B. Leslie, agent of the world renowned Alleghanians and Swiss bellringers, is in town making arrangements for the Alleghanians to appear in this city July 26th.

Mr. Alex. Campbell, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Marshfield, Coos county, is in the city attending the great council of the I. O. R. M., which will meet this morning.

Mr. Charles Petrain, a well-known young man of this city, who has been reading law for over a year past, was admitted to the bar by the Supreme Court of Washington Territory last week.

Mr. R. A. Habersham and party went up last week on the train to Eugene City. The party will commence the survey of the channel of the Wallamet at Eugene and come down the river.

Prof. Thomas H. Parrott, of East Portland, was out in Yamhill county shooting wild pigeons last Saturday. The first day he bagged 50 birds, and the next 73, making a total of 123 pigeons killed during the two days hunt.

This about the time of year when gushing young men go out for a few weeks' recreation from the office or store, and expect their girls to write them three or four times a day, as if stationery and postage stamps didn't cost money.

Now, when you feel inclined to sweat at the atmospheric warmth, don't, but just sit down and consider unprejudicedly the state of your mind last January, when the thermometer was frozen up before it could indicate the precise frigidity.

This is about the time of year when melancholy young men feel licensed to make night hideous with strains of vocal chords and twisted feline intestines. But in good truth they should await the mosquito season, when their victims per force lay awake all night, slapping and kicking at the smaller musical pest of humanity.

An editor out West has improvised the following "pome" for the benefit of his many friends who favor him with a call:

Again I hear that creaking step—
He's rapping at the door;
Too well I know the boding sound
That ushers in a bore.
I do not tremble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes;
But defend me from the friend
Who comes—but never goes.

Our musical critic visits the west end occasionally to see a—but what's the use going into particulars?—and occasionally he sits up late at night while on his sojournings. He always has a big ear for natural sounds, and tries to make the most of them. He says if the yelpings of the dogs were properly arranged, that is if the dogs were organized into a chorus, they would represent all the sounds up to 190 in the heat, and only a little less than that above the leger line.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Ladies who wish to have their own hair braided, made into switches, or worked up into any kind of ornamental work for use or preservation, will do well to call on or send to Mrs. LARSON, Morrison street, between Second and Third. She does all such work very neatly and upon reasonable terms. je2d1m

A Double Danger Averted.

The inhabitant of a malarious region is threatened by a double danger. He is not only compelled to breathe miasma, but to swallow it, since it infects not only the atmosphere, but the water. The aerial poison threatens his system through the lungs and pores, the liquid through the stomach. Against this double peril there is but one protection, and that is to invigorate the entire body through the digestive and secretive organs. Ordinary tonics usually fail to accomplish this—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters never. In the tropics, where the diseases originated by malaria are of a far more malignant type than those originated by the same cause in the temperate zone, it enjoys immense and constantly increasing sales, and there is no portion of this continent where it is not the reigning specific for miasmatic fevers and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, proceeding from malaria and other causes.

Have You a Cough, Cold, Pain in the Chest, or Bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of the "insatiate archer," consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which, in many cases where hope had fled, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

FEMININE VAGARIES.

Saleslady is what they call them; why this discrimination, why not salesgentleman instead of salesman.

A certain young lady is so modest that she will not permit the Christian Observer to remain in her room over night.

Bonner has a half million invested in horses, but Lydia Thompson has realized about that much of calves.

Clover blossoms and late dandelions, with a sprig of red-top grass, will do for a bouquet in the absence of more stuck-up flowers.

A Philadelphia man or woman has patented two new kinds of bustle, but it is believed there is still room for improvement in that line.

There are no female gaugers. Perhaps, if there were there would be less crooked whisky, they are so straight-laced in all their affairs.

We are asked, "What could have induced the ladies to adopt the 'pull-back' style of dress?" Can't say unless it is to promote a taste for anatomical studies.

A writer on dress says: "Short and podgy women should not wear belts." Now what is the use of advice like that? What women ever admitted she was "short and podgy?"

A Georgia paper boasts because a poor but pretty girl in that state has cultivated an acre of cotton, but this only proves what we've claimed all along, that women will have cotton even if they have to raise it themselves.

The number of innocent young girls who marry a man believing they can break him of his bad habits and lug him off to church twice every Sunday does not diminish in the least, and the divorce courts grind and grind.

Instead of going home for lunch this weather, go to Fabre & Barnes'.

A LITTLE BOY'S PRESENCE OF MIND.

HOW HE SAVED A TRAIN OF CARS.

The Indianapolis Sentinel, of July 3d, has this story:

Last Tuesday the Cincinnati day express, going East, left Connersville on time, and was flying on its way at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, when approaching a bridge over a river a few miles from Connersville the engineer noticed a small boy in the middle of the track motioning wildly with his arms. The heavy rains for several days before had caused the man at the throttle no little anxiety, and in a moment it flashed over his mind the bridge, but a very short distance ahead, was at least damaged by the freshet. With one hand he reached for the whistle, and with the other he reversed the engine. The train employees heard no ordinary stopping signal in the keen, short whistle, and in a moment, conductor, baggageman, and all the train employees were helping the regular brakemen wind the chains that were perhaps the only hopes of saving the lives of all on board. The train was stopped within but a few steps of where the bridge once rested on the abutment. The structure had been washed entirely away, and had it not been for the boy the entire train would have gone into the river, as the bridge was just at the end of a curve and so hidden by trees that its disappearance would not have been noticed until too late. As soon as the passengers had gotten over the shock the full realization of their danger had caused, a search was made for the boy. He was found sitting down off to one side of the track, shaking as if he had a chill, so badly was he frightened. Everyone on the train flocked around the brave little fellow, who said he was eleven years old, and almost crushed him in their joyful anxiety to even touch his body. He innocently said he did not begin shaking until he sat down, thereby showing that not until he had seen the train stop in safety did his nerves give way. He said his name was Davis, and that he lived near by, pointing to a farm-house. He was on his way home from a neighbor's when he discovered that the bridge had been washed away since passing an hour previous. He remembered the down passenger train, and knowing it was about time it came along, hurried up the track to give warning. He had only arrived at the spot where he was noticed by the engineer when the train came along. One of the passengers, an elderly Quaker lady, gave him five dollars, which he was reluctant to accept, although the conductor informed her that the officers of the road would reward the boy. The following day Superintendent Williams arrived at the scene and hunting out the hero gave him what money he had about him, some $20, with the promise that whenever he wanted anything at all that he should apply to him.

A MATERIALIZED BABY.

The rooms of a female Spiritualist in Boston were the scene of a startling occurrence on Tuesday evening. The woman, a Mrs. Seaver, had announced a "materialization meeting," and her apartments were pretty well filled with believers and curious folks, at fifty cents a head. The cabinet she uses is improvised out of an alcove in the room, and a curtain properly aperture. The room was darkened, but the outlines of the cabinet were visible, and eyes were intently fixed upon an opening in the center of the curtain, whence instructions led the audience to expect the spirit forms. The first appearance was supposed to be a small hand, but might have been a pudding-stick or an egg-beater so far as the audience were able to make out with distinctness. But there was more to come, and come it did. The aperture in the curtain enlarged and by degrees emitted a bulky substance, which was discovered to be a child—rather a fatter one than there was need of. During the minute, or thereabouts, occupied by the "spirit form" in making its exit from the cabinet no eye indulged in such a thing as a wink; nobody thought of molesting a mosquito, save one unbelieving young man. This youth suddenly rushed forward and seized the form, and a violent struggle ensued. The skeptic tugged away at the form in a frantic endeavor to pull it clear from the cabinet, to which its feet adhered with the most remarkable tenacity. There was evidently some one holding fast to the other end of the materialized form. The baby took this sort of thing very coolly—not a whimper out of him. The believers were dumbfounded with the daring and sinful act of the young man, and looked on the contest expecting to see him annihilated by the wrath of the invisible powers. The manager of the show, a young man of about thirty years of age, somehow did not trust in the invisible powers to the same extent the audience did, hence he rose up and planted his fist between the optics of the young disbeliever, causing him to desist from pulling at that ; the truth must be told, rag-baby. In the meantime (during the squabble) a woman in the audience had recognized the child as her own darling, some months dead. The bereft mother was truly grieved when she became convinced of the deception that had been practiced upon her.

COLONEL BOWIE.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune relates the following:

"I remember a story I heard forty or fifty years ago. A stage was going along an Arkansas road. On the back seat were three women; on the middle one, two men, tall and muscular; while the forward seat held only a small man, wrapped up completely in a blanket. After a time one of the powerful men on the middle seat lit a cigar and smoked. The smoke went up full in the face of one of the women, who was both young and timid. She sickened, and then requested the man to stop smoking. This aroused the ruffian in him, and he roughly declared, "I have paid my fare; it is customary to smoke, and I will smoke as much as I have a mind to." Accordingly he took out a fresh cigar and started the smoke-cloud again. The woman could only add that "Smokers ought not to forget to be gentlemen." This suggestion excited the man's rage to a white heat. At this point the small man on the front seat laid aside his blanket, put his left hand on the knee of the enraged ruffian, in order to withdraw his attention from the woman and to himself, while with his right hand, he drew a bowie-knife from its case between his shoulder blades. Pointing the weapon at the heart of the brute, and looking him square in the eyes, the little man said: "I am Colonel James Bowie; and, unless you throw that cigar away in one minute, I will put this knife into your heart, as true as there is a God." The ruffian comprehended in an instant with whom he had to deal, and threw his cigar out of the window without adding a word. Colonel Bowie replaced his weapon, drew his blanket about him and relapsed into a condition of apparent indifference.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

MONDAY EVENING, July 19, 1875.

Gold in New York. 114⅛.

Legal Tenders in Portland—buying, 86½; selling 87½.

Coin Exchange on San Francisco ½ percent. premium.

Currency Exchange on San Francisco ½ per cent. premium.

Coin Exchange on New York 1 per cent. premium.

Currency Exchange on New York ½ per cent. premium.

Telegraphic transfers on New York 1½ per cent. premium.

Gold Bars 750 par.

In our local market the week opens with more than the average activity for the season, and transactions to-day have been quite encouraging. The fairly liberal supply of money, both here and in San Francisco, has an evident tendency to incite some life in trade circles, and that tendency is manifest in the improved condition of affairs at present. At least, this is the view that some take of the situation, but we must be satisfied of its permanency before it will be necessary to search for the causes.

The U. S. treasury, says the Alta, held $94,000,000 May 1. With the exception of the coin afloat in New York, that was, outside of San Francisco, nearly all the disposable coin in the country. The treasury paid out in May $30,000,000 coin for interest and sales; in June, $35,000,000 for payment of bonds, making $65,000,000, and took back for duties $25,000,000. Thus $40,000,000 went on the market. Of that amount $25,000,000 that belonged to foreigners has been sent to them, and the remaining $15,000,000 swelled the supply in the market. Hence there was nothing in the export to affect the market directly, in which the supply was increased, while large sums went out of the treasury directly to Europe. But while this movement has been going on the business of the country has so shrunk up through growing distrust that the vast volume of paper money, nearly as large as that which serves three nations of Europe, whose population is one hundred and twelve million, does not find employment, but it gravitates to the central points, and is offered at two and one-half per cent. per annum, and on mercantile bills four per cent. per annum. The depreciation of that huge volume of inconvertible paper is marked not only in the low rates of interest but in the higher rate of gold, on which the premium has risen fifty per cent. When gold is high there is always less disposition to contract debts, because it is pretty sure to be payable in a dearer currency. Thus, if a merchant wants $10,000 to-day to buy exchange, he must get his note discounted for $11,725: sixty days hence, when the note falls due, gold may be 116, when $10,000 in coin will only be worth $11,111, showing a loss of $625 currency. Hence fewer persons make notes, and a rise in gold consequently tends to make paper money more plenty.

The Wheat Market.

The question of a large supply of tonnage on this coast the coming harvest year seems now to be settled, and the demand likely to prevail for our surplus crop is one in which we are more vitally interested. During the past year, says the San Francisco Commercial Herald, the wheat yield was overestimated and the exports correspondingly less. It is true we shipped more breadstuffs than in the year preceding, yet by reason of high freights the money value of the grain was considerably lessened. The low prices that prevailed the world over for wheat and flour, as the result of bountiful harvests both in the new and old world, affected all commercial interests of this coast disastrously, particularly as prior to the harvest a large number of ships were chartered to arrive at high freights, which resulted in consuming the very life blood of all that embarked in the doubtful speculation, and this dear-bought experience of last year has taught our people a very serious lesson that they will not forget very soon, and even now they seem to be going to the other extreme in the matter of grain freights. Be it so, there is no margin now upon wheat and freight at current rates, yet we learn that Liverpool markets are advancing, by reason of injury to crops, as shown by the telegrams from Europe which we have published from time to time for the last three weeks.

A good deal of complaint has been made by shippers of wheat from California to Europe of the many charges to which a cargo is subjected before it reaches the consumer, and some of the Oregon shippers have had the same reason to find fault. A private grain circular says: "Many cargoes of wheat from this coast, which had been sold as fair average shipping quality of the season, have been found fault with by the purchasers in Europe, and in a number of cases arbitrations have been held on such cargoes, resulting in an award for inferior quality against sellers. A few of these awards have undoubtedly been just, but others have certainly been unjust, and caused a great hardship to the exporters in our State. It seems to us that the system of arbitration, as at present customary in Liverpool, is manifestly in favor of the purchaser and against the seller, as the arbitrators are invariably purchasers only. In our opinion, any questions about inferiority of quality ought to be settled here, for example, by the arbitration committee of the chambers of commerce, or of the Produce Exchange, but as this will be strongly objected to by purchasers, the regulations of the Liverpool Corn Exchange ought at least to be amended in such a manner that merchants engaged in the wheat trade should also be eligible as arbitrators. It appears very strange that awards for inferiority of quality have been very numerous during the past year, while in former seasons they were of very rare occurrence; and so, it seems probable that the low values ruling in England when cargoes arrived, which had been bought at higher prices, had a great deal to do with the frequent complaints about inferior quality."

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—There have been no transactions of importance to-day, though one could hear many street rumors of advances in the current price. The market is still under the excitement before noticed and buyers could readily be found were any good lots offered. Holders are much inclined to accept nothing short of $1 66 per cental, which is the "round dollar a bushel" which some always claim the cerial to be worth.

FLOUR—The quotations of $5 50 per bbl. for standard extras, $5@5 25 for good country and outside brands and $4 50 for superfine, which we gave last Saturday are continued to-day, and though the demand is quiet transactions have been very considerable and we hear of several lots changing hands at our figures.

OATS—There is a fair demand, and receipts are now very light, though some dealers here have very considerable stocks on hand. The recent, dry hot weather has injured the prospects of the new crop, and prices are firm at 65@70c ₩ bushel.

BARLEY—We hear of no transactions to establish prices, and we quote nominally at $1 25 ₩ cwt. for common, and $1 85@140 for choice.

MILL FEED—There is still a tendency to a reduced demand. We quote bran at $16@16 50 ₩ ton; shorts, $22@25; chops, middlings, etc., $27 50@30; oil cake meal, $35, with but little in market.

HAY—A full supply in the market; quotable at $10@11 ₩ ton for fair to best timothy, loose, and $11 baled.

POTATOES—The market is in fair supply at 75c@$1 ₩ bushel.

ONIONS—There are but few lots in the market, quotable at 2c ₩ lb, nominally.

APPLES (DRIED)—There is a fair demand for fair lots, either in sacks or kegs, the latter preferred, at 7@7½c ₩ lb. Exports are increasing.

BACON—Sides are held at our former quotations of 11@12c ₩ lb, and are in full supply; shoulders are unchanged from 8@⅜c, while the market is overstocked with hams, and quotations for common lots are 10@12c ₩ lb, though they must be a little extra to command the latter figure.

LARD—Good Oregon made is worth 16c ₩ lb in kegs or tins, and is in brisk demand.

BUTTER—We quote fair to choice roll at 22a25 ₩ lb; extra print for table use, 30@35c; common solid, 18@20c.

CHICKENS—The market is in liberal supply; quotations for full grown $4 25@4 50 per dozen; spring, $2 50@2 75.

EGGS—There was, contrary to expectations, a slight falling off in receipts to-day, and jobbing rates advanced again to 27c ₩ doz.

BEEF CATTLE—Some very fine arrivals have been noticed during the week, and the market is supplied with an excellent stock. Slaughterers' prices are $3 75@4 25 per cwt. neat, or $1 75@2 50 on foot.

MUTTON SHEEP—The demand is light at $2a2 75 per head.

DRESSED HOGS—There is some inquiry for the local trade at 6¼@6¾c ₩ lb.

HIDES AND FURS—Prices for hides are still down, on account of the many damaged lots reaching the market. Undamaged are quoted at 15c ₩ lb for dry beef hides 6c for green; culls, 8a10c; elk, 18a20c ₩ lb; deer, 18@35c ₩ lb, dried, and 50a75c a piece, green; mink skins each, $1 51; otter, $1@5; beaver, 75ca$1.

WOOL—The arrivals of wool are now quite large, and the next outgoing steamer for San Francisco will probably have all she can carry. There are no changes from our quotations of 23@25 cents ₩ lb for fair valley wool and 21@22c for that from east of the mountains. The Commercial Herald says: The shipments of wool Eastward, both by sea and land, have thus far in the season been of considerable magnitude, resulting in reducing the stock of all kinds in San Francisco to about 1,250,000 lbs. out of a year's production of 25,000,000 lbs. There is now very little Oregon wool obtainable, as the bulk of the clip is controlled by two or three parties who prefer to ship the same East for their own account.

Shipping Intelligence.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching, and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown, or black at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.
